Every seat was taken and the curtain rose upon an expectant audience which was not disappointed in the fun which they derived from the songs and jokes. On Sunday the Oregon girls will be entertained by yachting to Pearl Harbor. The commodore of the Yacht Club being the host. In the evening there will be a chowder, and the party will return on the 9:30 train. There is a constant stream of invitations for them and they are having a "lovely time," so they are heard to remark often.

The Oregon girls are certainly being much entertained. On Thursday evening a banquet was tendered them by members of the Promotion Committee and the affair took place at the Moana hotel. Red was the color scheme of the long table which had covers for twenty-four. Chrysanthemums in both white and red, with malle, made the table charming to look upon. The souvenirs of the occasion were Hawaiian fans. Many toasts and speeches made the dinner most interesting. The Oregon girls and their chaperone were very daintily dressed and attracted much attention. After the dinner the guests strolled on the pier and sang their original Hawaii choros. The guests were Mrs. Weathered, Mrs. McCandless, Mrs. E. I. Spaulding, Mrs. F. C. Smith, Mrs. U. C. Blake, Miss Florence Heaven, Miss Molly Proebstel, Miss Emily Crosson, Miss Effie M. King, Miss Bertha Courtemanche, Miss Katie E. Nash, Miss Edna Parsley, Miss Ena Waldron, Miss Blanche Brown, Miss S. Madigan, E. I. Spaulding, J. A. McCandless, F. C. Smith, H. P. Wood, A. Gantley, F. L. Waldron, H. H. Tomkins, R. C. Matheson and H. W. Kinney.

The skating rink has become quite a fad, for nearly every morning well known society maids and matrons try their skill with the rolls and are more or less successful. Mrs. Percy Benson is considered the most graceful skater as yet, and with her usual good nature, assists and encourages the less skillful ones. The men are barred out in the morning and they tell me it is very amusing to watch the antics of the unskilled, unskooled and untaught—but they are all plucky and deserve to win out, as doubtless they will.

Mrs. Mannie Phillips gave a pretty luncheon at her residence on Kewalo street in honor of Mrs. Taylor of Chicago, who is a guest at the Moana hotel. The table presented a fairy-like appearance with hundreds of velvet-faced pansies in iridescent glass vases of different sizes scattered over its surface. Buttery bows of white tulle gave the finishing touches and at each place were tiny steins filled with pansies, which the guests took away as a souvenir of a delightful occasion. Among the guests besides the guest of honor, Mrs. Taylor, were Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mrs. F. H. Humphris, Mrs. Byron Baird, Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mrs. Emil Waterman, Mrs. Percy Benson and Mrs. F. Klamp.

A most enjoyable pot luncheon was given by Mrs. Frank Thompson in honor of Mrs. Sharon of Oakland, Cal. Among the other guests were Mrs. Byron Baird, Mrs. H. Lewis, Mrs. Humphrey, Miss Humphrey, Mrs. Whitehouse, Mrs. F. Klamp, Mrs. Brainard Smith, Mrs. Dowsett, Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. High.

One of the pleasantest pot parties of the week was given by Mrs. F. Richardson at her home on Thurston avenue. Among those present were Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. High, Mrs. Whitehouse, Mrs. Sacha, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Dougherty, Mrs. Cutting, Mrs. Angus, Mrs. Renton and Mrs. Hagens and Mrs. F. Klamp.

Mrs. Harry Lewis gave a charming little bridge party on Tuesday at her Waikiki residence.

Mrs. Ingram of Camp McKinley gave a pleasant luncheon this week in honor of Mrs. Cooper. Present were Mrs. Humphrey, Miss Humphrey and the ladies of Camp McKinley.

Miss Alice Jones gave a tea on Thursday at which the engagement of Miss Elsa Waterhouse was announced to Dr. Jamay Stubbs of England in the following unique fashion: As each girl entered the drawing-room she was presented with a pink card in the shape of a heart, on which were written different skits, her partner having the number which pulled the card attached to the envelope, asking "Who is Cupid's latest victim," and the answer was found in Miss Waterhouse's envelope, which caused much laughter and congratulations. The dining-room was appropriately decorated in pink, and the place was set with violet hearts, and the ice and the sweets were also in hearts. Among those present were Mrs. E. Ross, Mrs. Albert Waterhouse, Misses Hall, Neumann, Walker, Kimball, Schaefer, Blake, Alexander, Sturgeon, Judd, Josselyn, Marion Waterhouse, Fisher, Burwell, Lawka.

Mrs. Clifford Wood and children are expected on the 14th.

Mrs. Hagens has invitations out for a picnic luncheon at her Pearl City villa in honor of the Army and Navy and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Olmstead of the Moana hotel, gave a chic little dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson on Wednesday evening. The table was most artistically decorated with Hawaiian foliage. Mr. Robinson, who has been sent out from Washington as park expert, expressed himself as charmed with the island and its possibilities.

Mrs. Taylor of Chicago gave a charming dinner on Tuesday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Humphris. The decorations of green tulle, white flowers and softly shaded candles in the same tone were highly effective.

There have been many Orpheus parties this week, and jolly little supper parties later.

The largest Lawn Fair of the season will be given by the members of Leahl Chapter No. 2, Order of the Eastern Star, on May 14th, at Halealea lawn. It is the intention of the ladies in charge to make this event one of the grandest of its kind ever given in Honolulu, and as the purpose for which it is to be given is one of the noblest, there is no doubt but that it will be a grand financial success. The fair will be given for the purpose of endowing a bed in the Sanatorium for the benefit of Masons, their families and members of the Eastern Star and their families. One of the special features will be a lunch, served on the lawn from 11:30 to 2:30, besides which there will be numerous booths for the sale of fancy work, refreshments, ice cream, candy, etc., etc. Mrs. H. H. Williams has been appointed chairman of the committee on arrangements, and with the assistance of other society ladies of Honolulu, there seems to be little doubt but that the event will be one of the best of its kind ever held in Honolulu.

Mrs. Van Vliet, of Camp McKinley was the hostess of a delightful bridge party on Friday afternoon. There were seven tables in all and the prizes were won as follows: First prize, a Cloasine vase, Miss Bertha Ruth Young Mrs. Hagens was awarded the consolation prize, a handsome Hawaiian spoon. The rooms of the Van Vliets looked very attractive with cut flowers and palms artistically arranged. Mrs. Van Vliet is always a charming hostess and her guests thoroughly enjoyed themselves on Friday afternoon. Delicious refreshments are served at the end of the game. Among those present were Mrs. Henry Lyon, Mrs. F. Klamp, Mrs. Humphreys, Miss Humphreys, Mrs. Layard, Mrs. Lena Slattery, Mrs. Rudolf Slattery, Mrs. Cushman, Mrs. Hagens, Mrs. Mays, Miss Bertha Ruth Young, Mrs. Marshall, Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. Alexander Scott, Mrs. Hannah, Mrs. Coney, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Hocking, Mrs. Schweitzer, Miss Schweitzer, Mrs. Riggs, Mrs. von Hamm, Mrs. Rossiter, Mrs. Merriam.

Raphael Well gave an inimitable dinner at the Bohemian Club last evening to commemorate one of the events of Colonel A. G. Hawes' career. On many occasions on several continents of the world and tales of the ocean the colonel has been host or guest of honor in banquets galore. In the early "fifties," after leaving Vermont to "go West," as Horace Greeley advised, to "grow up with the country," he fancied that life at the case of the printer would be rosy enough for any one. After sticking type in nearly all the newspaper offices of the Mississippi Valley, from St. Paul to St. Louis, he changed his mind and enlisted in John Brown's army in Kansas, where he served until the famous General Sumner came along and "dispersed" him.

Subsequently in the Army of the Tennessee at Shiloh and in the memorable Atlanta campaign Colonel Hawes won distinction for splendid demeanor as a soldier. These events and the fact that the colonel was one of the founders of the Bohemian Club impelled Raphael Well to spread the feast and put a fine birthday cake in the center of the table. The candles were many, so many that it would take a counting machine to count them, but the rough estimates placed the number at more than fifty and less than seventy-four. Bidden to the dinner were George T. Bromley, Frederick Warde, General Lucius H. Foote, Reuben H. Lloyd, Chauncey M. St. John, Ryland Wallace, Hugh M. Burke, Dr. Benjamin R. Swan, Fred Hall, Louis Rosenthal, David Bush, James G. Walker, S. D. Brautov.—San Francisco Call.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Wilder gave one of their pretty dinners last Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilder. It was strictly a family affair, for all the guests were united by ties of relationship. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Brown, Acting-Governor Atkinson and Mr. Robert Atkinson.

Mrs. "Jack" Hawes is slowly convalescing from an attack of appendicitis which has lasted four weeks.
